Members of the U.S. Army and the Marine Corps, to whom we owe so much.

Joe Caldwell, a two-term PBA delegate who retired from Highway 1 with a 9/11-related illness, began the Orchard Beach Car Show in the wake of the World Trade Center terrorist attacks. He, as the show's founder and president, and his best friend John Monsolino of the New York City Department of Transportation, as the show's co-founder and vice-president, started the event to benefit the PBA Widows' and Children's Fund. They received great support in this effort from PBA Bronx Trustee Joe Anthony as well as many others — staff members and participants.

The annual event has generated a substantial six-figure amount for the widows and children and has been supported by the presence of celebrity actors, musicians, athletes and TV stars. The event's prominence in media and clubs devoted to vintage and specialized cars and motorcycles have made this the largest such show on the east coast.

A huge debt of gratitude, by the way, is owed to PBA President Pat Lynch for his support in this enterprise.

Joe Caldwell and his staff also want to convey belated condolences to the New York Yankees and the family of George Steinbrenner — the Boss was an ardent supporter of the NYPD, the PBA, and the Orchard Beach Car Show.
